MISSION STATEMENT

The Sydney College of Divinity is a leading Christian theological education provider, offering high quality, accredited awards to equip people for effective professional and lay ministry in a rapidly changing environment.

The Sydney College of Divinity will

- provide high quality, accredited education in theology and related disciplines from undergraduate to postgraduate levels
- encourage theological scholarship and train future theological scholars
- prepare leaders and ministers, both ordained and non-ordained, who are well-qualified to build the Church
- contribute to the public discussion of issues of faith
- encourage a theologically literate membership of the Church.

The Teaching Bodies of the College commit themselves to sustain a teaching program of excellence in Higher Education, integrating best practice in adult teaching and learning with theological enterprise. They, in their turn, seek to foster self-directed and lifelong learning among their students. This extends to actively encouraging graduates to engage in further study and research, both within the College and in other institutions of higher learning.

OUR HISTORY

The Sydney College of Divinity, through its Member Institutions, has been training theologians and equipping persons for ministry since 1983. Today over 1,500 candidates are proceeding to SCD awards. The programs range from diplomas, through a variety of bachelor and masters coursework awards, to research degrees, including separate doctorates in Theology, Ministry and Philosophy. This is a far cry from the first graduation in 1985, where the original six Member Institutions produced just forty-one graduates, all male, and all taking the one single award (BTh). In contrast, the 2017 graduation saw 242 graduands and the total number of conferrals reach 5,733.

ACCREDITATION

The Sydney College of Divinity is recognised by the Commonwealth Government as a Higher Education Provider and is listed on the TEQAS Register of Higher Education Providers with self-accrediting authority authorisation.

RESEARCH AT THE SYDNEY COLLEGE OF DIVINITY

The Sydney College of Divinity offers four research awards with research active supervisors listed on the Register of Supervisors. Applications for the Master of Philosophy, the Doctor of Ministry, the Doctor of Philosophy and the Doctor of Theology awards are processed through the Office of the Dean. Expressions of interest, questions and applications should be made to the Director (Research).

STUDY PATHS

Sydney College of Divinity courses and awards are organised in terms of the following two study paths.

PATH A: for those who begin their theological studies with an undergraduate theology award

Path A is structured around the Bachelor of Theology and the Bachelor of Ministry as the primary undergraduate awards in theology and ministry which serve as a basis for subsequent graduate study to the highest levels. The minimum entry requirement is tertiary matriculation. Students who complete the Bachelor of Theology or Bachelor of Ministry may move on to the Bachelor of Theology (Honours) or the Bachelor of Ministry (Honours) respectively, or the Master of Arts or the Master of Theology and hence to higher research degrees, the Master of Philosophy, the Doctor of Ministry, the Doctor of Philosophy and the Doctor of Theology.

a) Pre-degree Awards

Diploma of Ministry: A 1 ½ year full-time, 5 year part-time program of study in theology, biblical studies and Christian ministry and practice related disciplines. This award is available in distance education mode

Diploma of Theology: A 1 ½ year full-time, 5 year part-time program of study in theology, biblical studies and related disciplines. This award is available in distance education mode.

Diploma of Christian Studies: A 1 year full-time, 3 year part-time program of study in theology, biblical studies and related disciplines. This is made up of Bachelor of Theology/Ministry degree level units. This award is available in distance education mode.

b) Undergraduate Degrees

Associate Degree of Christian Thought and Practice:

A 2 year full-time, 6 year part-time program of theological study with special focus on Christian Thought (biblical studies, theology, philosophy, church history) and/or on Christian Practice (pastoral counselling, worship and liturgy, mission, pastoral theology, Christian spirituality, Christian ethics). This award is available in distance education mode.

Bachelor of Ministry:

A 3 year full-time, 9 year part-time program leading to the primary undergraduate qualification in ministry. The Bachelor of Ministry is a primary undergraduate award which provides a broad and coherent study of Christian Life and Ministry and related studies in Biblical Studies and Theology through a structure of majors and sub-majors. This degree prepares candidates for professional and lay Christian ministry and for further learning beyond the degree.

In order to ensure coherence of structure and sequencing of units, a student can obtain the Bachelor of Ministry only by fulfilling the particular subject area and unit requirements of a Teaching Body authorised to offer the award and in which the student is enrolled. This award is available in distance education mode.

Bachelor of Theology:

A 3 year full-time, 9 year part-time program leading to the primary undergraduate qualification in theology. The Bachelor of Theology provides a broad and coherent study of theology and related disciplines through a structure of majors and sub-majors. This degree prepares candidates for professional and lay Christian ministry and for further learning beyond the degree.

In order to ensure coherence of structure and sequencing of units, a student can obtain the Bachelor of Theology only by fulfilling the particular subject area and unit requirements of a Teaching Body authorised to offer the award and in which the student is enrolled. This award is available in distance education mode.

c) Postgraduate Degrees

Bachelor of Ministry (Honours): A 1 year full-time, 3 year part-time program for Sydney College of Divinity Bachelor of Ministry graduates (or equivalent). The award provides opportunity for preparatory research as a stepping stone to research in ministry at the highest level.

Bachelor of Theology (Honours): A 1 year full-time, 3 year part-time program for Sydney College of Divinity Bachelor of Theology graduates (or equivalent). The award provides opportunity for preparatory research as a stepping stone to research in theology at the highest level.

Master of Arts: A 1.5 year full-time, 4.5 year part-time program of studies taken from a designated list of both core and elective units, available to candidates who hold a bachelor degree in Theology or Ministry. This award is available in distance education mode.

Master of Theology: A 1.5 full-time, 4.5 year part-time program of graduate study in theology and related disciplines for candidates with the Bachelor of Theology or equivalent, who wish to pursue theological studies in greater depth and with greater rigour. This award is available in distance education mode.

The research awards into which Path A articulates are Master of Philosophy, Doctor of Theology, Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Ministry.

PATH B – Graduate programs for those who have completed a three year undergraduate award

Path B provides programs in theology and related disciplines for students who have already gained a three-year undergraduate degree in another field. Students may complete a variety of awards from Graduate Certificates up to the Master of Divinity, with various entry and exit points. Specialised awards are available in particular disciplines through the Master of Arts, which can also be taken as exit points from the Master of Divinity. The Graduate Certificate in Arts, the Graduate Diploma of Arts and the Master of Arts are “nested” in order to provide students with the opportunity to undertake theological subjects at graduate level with an option as to entry and exit points.

On completion of appropriate graduate studies a student may move on to either the research interdisciplinary awards, Master of Philosophy or Doctor of Philosophy, or in the case of the Master of Divinity on to the purely theological award Doctor of Theology. A specialised opportunity for advanced research is available with the Doctor of Ministry, which incorporates the pursuit of advanced study in Christian Life and Ministry by research at the highest academic level in the context of professional practice.

Graduate Certificate in Arts: A 0.5 year full-time, 1.5 year part-time program of studies in which candidates apply a body of theological knowledge in a range of contexts relating to ministry and/or further learning. Successful completion of this award allows entry into the Master of Arts program. This award is available in distance education mode.

Graduate Diploma of Arts: A 1 year full-time, 3 year part-time program of studies in which candidates apply a body of theological knowledge in a range of contexts relating to ministry and/or further learning. This award is available in distance education mode.

Master of Arts: A 1- 1.5 year full-time, 3 – 4.5 year part-time program of studies taken from a designated list of both core and elective units. Entry into the 1 year stream of this award requires the prior completion of the SCD Graduate Certificate in Arts (or equivalent AQF Level 8 award in theological or ministerial studies). This award is available in distance education mode.

Master of Divinity: A 3 year full-time, 9 year part-time graduate entry program for students undertaking initial theological studies. It provides a comprehensive education in theology comparable in breadth and depth to the Bachelor of Theology, including a deeper and theological understanding, spiritual formation, and cultural literacy that will prepare candidates for ordained or other professional ministry in church, parachurch or non-profit organizations, and other similar vocational settings. This award is available in distance education mode.

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH AWARDS

Master of Philosophy: A 1 year full-time, 2 year part-time program of graduate study in theology and related disciplines by research and the submission of a thesis for candidates with a Bachelor (Hons) degree or equivalent with results at Class II, Division 1, from the Sydney College of Divinity or an equivalent institution.

Doctor of Ministry: A 3-4 years full-time or 6-8 years part-time higher award by research (80%) and coursework (20%) for candidates who have obtained or are qualified to obtain a four-year Bachelor degree, or the equivalent, in an appropriate discipline, to at least a High Credit standard, AND have at least four years' full-time or equivalent part-time certified experience in ministry.

Doctor of Philosophy: A 3-4 years full-time or 6-8 years part-time program of graduate study in theologically related disciplines by research and the submission of a thesis for candidates who have obtained or are qualified to obtain a four-year Bachelor degree, or the equivalent, in an appropriate discipline, to at least a Distinction standard.

Doctor of Theology: A 3-4 years full-time or 6-8 years part-time program of graduate study in theology and related disciplines by research and the submission of a thesis for candidates who have obtained or are qualified to obtain a four-year

Bachelor degree, or the equivalent, in an appropriate discipline, to at least a Distinction standard.

TEACHING BODIES OF THE COLLEGE

AUSTRALIAN COLLEGE OF CHRISTIAN STUDIES

ACCS is a multi-denominational, dual sector Christian Education Centre offering government accredited courses in the Higher Education sector.

ACCS' academic programs are designed for those who desire a biblical and theological foundation to equip them to be effective in the local church, community or mission field. The College aims to equip God's people to be agents of change in the world by providing quality Christian education, which is Christ-centred, biblically grounded, ministry based, academically sound and career orientated.

In late 2014, ACCS changed its name from Tabor College NSW which was established in 1992. In December 2010, Emmaus Bible College accepted responsibility for the operations of Tabor College NSW with both colleges operating independently with a common Board of Governance and an interchange of faculty teaching at both institutions. In December 2015, the board commenced the strategic direction to merge the two colleges, with both colleges working toward operating as a single entity from 2017. The combined entity retained the name Australian College of Christian Studies (ACCS) due to its higher education provider status.

Today ACCS provides a range of options for both full-time, part-time students and distance education through online learning. Many students at ACCS are seeking to improve their ability to serve God in local churches, youth ministry, missions and para-church agencies.

AUSTRALIAN COLLEGE OF MINISTRIES

The Australian College of Ministries (ACOM) is an international provider of life changing, ministry training experiences. ACOM specialises in flexible delivery, with its hybrid of distance learning experience mixed with targeted face-to-face student support through Formation Groups and Subject Facilitations. ACOM has developed a national and international reputation for excellence and innovation. ACOM has produced thousands of graduates serving as ministers, evangelists, lay leaders, welfare workers, teachers, missionaries and church planters. ACOM was originally birthed as a campus-based residential college over seventy-five years ago (1941) as the Churches of Christ in NSW Theological College (Woolwich, Sydney). The college merged with Kenmore Christian College (Queensland) in 1999 to form The Australian College of Ministries.

ACOM is currently Sponsored by Churches of Christ in NSW (CofCNSW) and the Christian and Missionary Alliance of Australia (C&MA). The sponsorship enables ACOM to pursue its mission and partner with initiatives such as: The Tops Conference Centre, Navigate Programs, Living Care and the Alliance Institute for Mission who offer specific mission training courses; supporting the development and training for cross-cultural ministry.

CATHOLIC INSTITUTE OF SYDNEY

The Catholic Institute of Sydney (CIS) is a community of faith and learning in which teachers and students seek to bring the Gospel into dialogue with Australian culture by drawing upon and developing the intellectual heritage of the Church. The Institute was established as an Ecclesiastical Faculty in 1954, empowered to award Roman ecclesiastical degrees. It has been committed to the education of Catholic priests since the late 1880s. In order to provide for the needs of people preparing for professional ministry in the Church, CIS offers studies leading to the nationally recognised awards of the Sydney College of Divinity. Part-time studies are available.

NAZARENE THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

Nazarene Theological College (NTC) was established in 1953 by the Church of the Nazarene, an evangelical denomination in the Wesleyan tradition. It is one of fifty-nine tertiary level institutions worldwide operated by the church, serving both its own denomination and students from other Christian traditions. Its major focus is to prepare men and women for the challenges of Christian ministry (both ordained and lay) in Australia, New Zealand and throughout the world. Nazarene Theological College fosters within the students a passion to make a difference in the church and community through involvement in mission, discipleship and pastoral care. Students are prepared for Christian service through accredited undergraduate and postgraduate awards in theology and ministry.

NSW COLLEGE OF CLINICAL PASTORAL EDUCATION

The New South Wales College of Clinical Pastoral Education (NSWCCPE) began as the Council for Clinical Pastoral Education on July 1, 1963. Since then it has conducted various training courses for chaplains, clergy, theological students and other laypeople. By the late 1970s Clinical Pastoral Education courses were offered at Gladesville Hospital, Kenmore Hospital and Royal North Shore Hospital. While courses are no longer offered at Gladesville and Kenmore Hospitals the CPE movement in NSW has expanded to include CPE Centres at St Vincent's Hospital, Canberra Hospital, Gosford Hospital, Sydney Adventist Hospital, The Lottie Stewart Hospital, Westmead Hospital and Rozelle. Courses are also conducted at Newcastle, Goulburn and Royal Prince Alfred Hospital.

The College teaches the Masters of Arts specialising in Chaplaincy and in Pastoral Supervision. These are an outworking of the history of the organisation.

Applicants for the Master of Arts with a specialisation in Pastoral Supervision will be required to have done Clinical Pastoral Education up to advanced level and meet the College's requirements for permission to act as a Level I Supervisor in Clinical Pastoral Education.

SAINT CYRIL'S COPTIC ORTHODOX THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE

St Cyril's Coptic Orthodox Theological College (SCTC) is a tertiary provider of leading edge theological education in the tradition of the Orthodox Church. Since 1982 we have been educating men and women in the service of the Church, offering both undergraduate and postgraduate accredited degrees in Orthodox Theology in the Coptic tradition.

St Cyril's is an educational institution which is faithful to the Orthodox Christian faith as lived and experienced by the Coptic Orthodox Church throughout her history spanning two millennia. Witnessing to the Orthodox faith, St Cyril's aims to explore and present this faith within a rigorous educational framework, in harmony with our modern Australian context, without losing sight of the spiritual dimension of authentic Orthodox theology and education.

SCD KOREAN SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

Korean School of Theology began in 2010, as a home for theological studies in the Korean language in Australia!

Our Korean program offers government-accredited, university-level awards directed

- to prepare future pastors and leaders for the Korean church in Australia,
- to educate Koreans who wish to understand the Christian faith better; and
- to train scholars who will be able to teach theological studies to future generations

The programs are suitable for Koreans who do not have the language qualification to undertake these studies in English and for other Koreans who could obtain this qualification but prefer to study in their first language. The program is approved for both local and overseas students.

The SCD Korean School of Theology operate on three campuses including Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane.

MEMORIAL GRANTS AND MEDALS

DIANNE FEENEY MEMORIAL

A grant and medal has been established by the Council of the Sydney College of Divinity. It is to be awarded each year to the candidate of the college who has gained the highest level of achievement in the Bachelor of Theology and who is proceeding to further theological study as a graduate student in the college.

The grant and medal is a memorial to honour the life and work of Dianne Feeney, who was a member of the teaching faculty in the Churches of Christ in NSW Theological College as an anthropologist and missiologist. She played a constructive part in the development of the Sydney College of Divinity until her tragic death in New Guinea on 28 November, 1985. The award will be paid from a fund which was set up in 1987 with donations from some of her colleagues and from Teaching Bodies of the Sydney College of Divinity.

BETH BLACKALL MEMORIAL

Council in April 1997 established a fund from which a grant and medal would be awarded to the student presenting a thesis of excellence which was also the best at graduate level that year.

The Prize marks the contribution to the Sydney College of Divinity made by Dr Bettina (Beth) Blackall who died on 7 June, 1996. Dr Blackall's understanding of the processes of higher education was invaluable when advising on the development of an appropriate infrastructure for the Sydney College of Divinity. Her involvement with all of our Member Institutions and her sensitivity to their histories, their traditions and their confessional stances, reflected her ecumenical approach to theological education.

The award is a mark of excellence, and is not always granted in a given year.

BRIAN MURRAY MEMORIAL

Through a generous donation received from the Marist Fathers a fund was established from which a grant and a medal would be awarded annually to the student with the highest level of achievement in the discipline of Theology who is graduating BTh.

The Prize marks the contribution of the Rev. Dr Brian Murray SM to theological education generally and to the Sydney College of Divinity in particular. Dr Murray was principal and lecturer at the Catholic Theological Union from 1975 until the end of 1982. During that time he played a significant role in the establishment of the Sydney College of Divinity (being a member of the initial working party) and was involved in the early submissions to the Higher Education Board. He later served as Superior to the Marist Fathers' General House in Rome, as Vicar Provincial for the Australian Province, and in parish ministry in Brisbane until his death on 8 September, 1994.

STUDENT ENTITLEMENTS AND SERVICES

AUSTUDY and FEE-HELP

Students should contact the Teaching Body where they are enrolled to see whether they are eligible for Austudy, FEE-HELP and other Government schemes that may be of benefit.

AUSTUDY

Under the Commonwealth Government guidelines, Austudy is available for full-time theological students who are working towards accredited awards. "Full-time" is defined by the Government to involve at least $\frac{3}{4}$ of a maximum load. Enquiries about eligibility for Austudy and making application should be directed to the closest Centrelink Office. Please note that:

1. It is the student's responsibility to keep Centrelink informed of any program changes or changes of address during each year (if the loading falls below full-time, then Centrelink may require repayment of Austudy received).
2. The Teaching Body administration is required to complete regular reports for Centrelink on student progress and full-time/part-time status.
3. Centrelink requires a full-time load for each trimester, i.e. at least 18 credit points. Personal Formation 1 & 2 and Personal Formation 3 are divided across the number of trimesters appropriate for each of these subjects - they do not count as one full subject in a trimester for Centrelink calculations.

FEE-HELP

FEE-HELP is a Government financial loan scheme for students attending private colleges. All enrolled students who are Australian citizens (or on Humanitarian Visas) have access to government loans for both undergraduate and post-graduate study. The loan amount available is up to $102,392 (2018, indexed 1 January) and can be used over the lifetime of the student at all levels of higher education accredited training. The loan can be used for a single subject or a number of subjects, or for a complete award or a number of awards - it is the student's choice. The repayment of the loan commences once a student's taxable income exceeds $55,874 (2017-2018).

To access FEE-HELP, a student needs to complete a Request for FEE-HELP Assistance form and submit it to his or her Teaching Body before the trimester begins. The Teaching Body then submits the required information on each student seeking FEE-HELP to enable the Government to issue a Commonwealth Higher Education Student Support Number (CHESSN) to each student. This number will stay with the student for the rest of his/her life.

TRANSPORT CONCESSIONS

Transport concessions are available to full time students, and are issued through the registry of the Teaching Body in which a student is enrolled.
